Many people choose someone to marry even though _____ are not from the same culture. However, there are some people who choose to marry _____ because _____ are from a different culture. There are five different groups.

The first group is the non-traditional group. This group feels detached from others in the group. As a non-traditional person, _____ never shares the mainstream values. The second group is the compensators. _____ are looking for a better half. The third group is the romantics. These people believe that romance equals adventure. _____ believe that being a romantic person and marrying outside their culture gives _____ prestige. The next group is titled the internationals. These people usually come from wealthy families, and _____ do not believe anyone belongs to a certain group. This type of person feels that _____ has been influenced by many other cultures, and marrying outside _____ group is seen as prestigious. The final type of person is the rebel. These are free-minded people, who marry outside looking for specific traits not found in the current culture.
