

Adjective Clauses where / which

A. What's wrong with these sentences? Fix them.

1. New York City, where is the biggest city in the US, was a target for terrorists.
2. Hawaii, where you can go surfing and spend time on a beach.
3. My friend lives in Miami, which is a busy city in south Florida, has a hot climate.
4. Mexico, which is warm and sunny, last year I went to.
5. I want to visit Toronto, which the biggest city in Canada.

B. Finish the sentences. Make sure you have 2 clauses: main clause (SV) and adjective clause (sv).

Use the adjective clause to describe the object of the main sentence.

1. Someday I want to visit Paris, where
2. My friend lives in Paris, which
3. I've never been to Tokyo, which
4. The President recently visited Tokyo, where

Use the adjective clause to describe the subject of the main sentence. (Add a main verb, too!)

5. Los Angeles, which
6. Los Angeles, where
7. Vancouver, where
8. Vancouver, which